There's a handy document separator that divides your pages into punchable quantities to speed up the punching process: no more guessing or counting sheets. Just click the comb selector knob and settings are automatically adjusted to suit the plastic comb size (up to 51 mm) and the number of pages you are binding (maximum 450 sheets). The auto centering feature quickly positions the pages for accurate punching whether sheets are letter-sized, oversized covers or standard A4. And the auto edge guide ensures there are no paper break-outs at either edge to minimise waste and achieve perfect results first time.
